Catholic Women's Club To Hear Missionary Worker Monday

Teen-agers who might have an interest in Catholic lay apostolic work are invited to join the Catholic Women's Club at the October meeting Monday night to hear Mrs. Paul P. Sears discuss her experience as a missionary worker with the Society of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary.

Following her marriage in 1963, she and her husband spent another two years in this area, where her husband was business manager for the Missionary Society. The couple worked for no pay, and just enough expense money to cover a meager existence. Mrs. Sears will describe her work with these Spanish speaking Americans.

Mrs. Sears is a graduate of Boston College School of Nursing and was certified as a teacher by Westfield State College. Her husband was graduated from Providence College and earned a mas-

Democrats, Republicans and Changing Times

When the cool fingers of autumn slip thru our daily lives, their stimulating effect provide a proper atmosphere for political decisions. Election days are near, and flashing through the minds of the voters are the minute pictures of all that has been said by all of the candidates, and all that is part of our philosophy of government. A decision is not always easy to make in our fluid society. Candidate and party motions are frequently hidden and false issues are put across.

Unlike the spots on the leopard, the ideas of political parties do change, under the influence of their current leaders. The election result may not have been what has been represented. Popularly, the Democrats are considered on the political left, while the Republicans are on the right of a fluid middle line. Most Americans are considered to group their thinking around the middle line, with recent elections having been decided a little left of center.

In composition, the Democratic Party consists of conservatives, liberals, ultra liberals and the extreme left wingers, while the Republican Party consists of liberal, conservative, the "Old Guard" and when they vote, the ultra conservative. The liberal Democrat is no stranger with his philosophy, "the government can do it for us."

The ultra-liberal is the modern day "pink" and is quite vocal in our country today. Their goal is complete "state planning," and "state socialism." Arthur Schlesinger in his recent magazine article quite well described what their thinking is. The public scorn of this group a few years ago have left some tender edges, thus the ultra-liberals approach their goals in devious ways, but they can't hide their sending medicine and bandages to North Vietnam.

Democrats are not proud of their "left wingers" though they do receive their votes at election time. The recent huge Democratic victories on federal, state, and town levels are well documented, the result, unhappiness across the land.

What is wrong that makes us feel this way?

A significant part answer is that the Democratic party is not what the voters had been led to believe that it was representing, when they voted for it.

The writings in newspapers, magazines, the actions in congress, legislature and town government indicate that the center of the Democratic Party philosophy has moved to the left and is coming under the domination of the ultra-liberals.

In keeping with the times, the Republican Party is also moving to the left, and in this year of 1966, is right square in the middle of the main stream of American thinking and way of life.

A shift of 500 votes from those who have voted Democratic in the last two years, to the candidates on the Republican side of the ballot, followed by a similar shift, now apparent across the state, will give the people the government that they wish for.

In November, a free people can still decide.

JOSEPH J. TRZCINSKI,
2nd Vice Chairman, Agawam Republican Town Committee, and member of the Publicity Committee. Also Agawam Co-ordinator for Elliot Richardson for Atty. General

Over Million Gain In Westfield Savings Bank Yearly Assets

Assets of the Westfield Savings Bank totaled $49,278,024 on September 30, for a gain of $1,383,742 over the same date a year ago, Arthur W. Knapp, president, told the quarterly meeting of the bank's board of trustees at the Sheraton Inn Friday night. Henry F. Burrows, chairman of the board, presided.

One of the major topics of the meeting was the application Westfield Savings Bank has filed with the Massachusetts Commissioner of Banks for permission to establish a branch office in Agawam. The Commissioner of Banks has scheduled a hearing for Westfield Savings in Boston on November 7.

The new Westfield Savings branch, if approved, will be located in the center of Agawam, on Main Street. Mr. Knapp said Agawam is "an active and growing community" and he noted that in addition to already serving many savings and mortgage customers in the town, Westfield Savings Bank conducts the school savings program in the Agawam schools.

Westfield Savings, which occupied its own new main office in Westfield two years ago, has conducted a branch operation in West Springfield since 1948, and constructed a new building at 206 Park Street in that community in 1957.

Mr. Knapp told the trustees that total savings deposits on Sept. 30 were $43,149,115, representing an increase of $1,791,625 over that date a year ago.

Real estate loans on September 30 amounted to $36,795,420, and Mr. Knapp noted that the full-year increase was $2,646,197, and the gain for the six-month period was $1,321,599.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER

By Bill Chiba

Jess Natale expressed his gratitude to the large gathering of sportsmen who attended dinner in his honor. Jess has retired from managing the Agawam Sportsmen Club for 17 years. He was in the forefront when the club was placed in a precarious position by the construction of Route 57. It took men of Jess's caliber to keep the club on even keel during the trying era.

The members of the club gave Jess a complete salt water fishing outfit and an all band radio. Oscar Menard, long time friend, made the presentation for the body.

Bill Trumbull is chairman of the pitch tournament that is being organized at the Agawam Sportsmen Club. He is being assisted by Buddy Roberts, Chick Basile, Frank Magnani and Oscar Menard. The event will commence October 11 at 7:30 p.m. and run for 20 weeks. Every player will be on his own. If you are interested in competing sign up at the club house.

TURKEY SHOOTS

W.S. Fish & Game Club, off Garden St., Feeding Hills, this Sunday starting at 1 p.m. Ammunition provided, guns available. PRIZES, turkeys, hams and sporting equipment. Proceeds to the 1967 children's fishing derby. Shoots will be held every Sunday to Nov. 20 inclusive.

Four Regions

Sportsmen throughout the country are in for a first rate hunting season.

This is the forecast of the fifth annual series of regional reports on hunting and conservation just completed by the Winchester-Western Division, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, and designed to meet the special requirement of the nation's outdoor press. Individual copies also are available to the public on request.

The four regional newsletters, contain hunting data for each state. Olin's Conservation Department provides details on hunting areas and population status.

Hunting and Fishing Big Business

A new survey conducted by the U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, similar to those conducted in 1955 and 1960, shows that sportsmen spent over four billion dollars to hunt and fish in 1965. Of the 33 million sportsmen in the United States, there are 28 million who fished, 14 million who hunted, and, included in the two previous figures, over 9 million who participated in both sports. The figures are for individuals over twelve years of age and who indicated "substantial participation." This eliminated those individuals who hunted or fished just once or twice a year in their local area. Hunters spend more than twice as much on dogs as they do for licenses, and fishermen spend ten times as much money on boats as they do for licenses.

Buffalo Roams

La Porte, Ind. The voice on the telephone told a state police dispatcher the other night there was a buffalo roaming the Indiana toll road.

And sure enough there was. A trooper sent to investigate radioed for help. He reported he found a bull buffalo on the superhighway, and "he looks mean."

Four more troopers were dispatched, and the buffalo was captured near the La Porte prison farm. The owner said the buffalo had been missing since early morning.

New Regime

Jr. Rifle Club Gun Class Starts Friday

The Agawam Junior Rifle will start its Fall training class in gun safety and marksmanship at the Agawam Sportsman's Club on Corey St.

There will be three classes, Oct. 14 at 7 p.m., Oct. 15 at 10 a.m. and Oct. 19 at 7 p.m. Arrangements will be made for a range for an actual firing class in the future. There is a $5 fee for the course.

All youngsters, male or female, ages 10-17 are eligible. Registrations will be accepted on opening night only. There will be no applications accepted after that night. All youngsters satisfactorily passing the course are eligible for membership in the rifle club.

This course has nothing to do with the obtaining of a hunting license, it is strictly a safety course in the handling of firearms and how to shoot accurately.

Caba . . .

Mr. Caba stated "I resigned my position with the Whiting Co. of Holyoke as plant superintendent when the Agawam Board of Selectmen, in a unanimous decision, requested me to accept the vacancy of the Town Clerk and Treasurer's office. I made my decision to accept this position, recognizing the urgency of having the town continue with its business and to meet its financial obligation. I have always felt that the call to civic duty should be met before any personal gain."

"The current situation in the Town Clerk and Treasurer's Office prohibits my actively campaigning for the Oct. 15 caucus. I feel that the pressing duties here now, require that I spend 15 to 16 hours on the job. I will work these hours continually and leave the campaigning for my election up to the 'Caba for Town Clerk & Treasurer Committee. I am appealing to the voters of Agawam for recognition of the job I am now doing and that they vote for Edward Caba, Oct. 15 in the Democratic Caucus at Peirce School from 2 to 8 p.m.

The "Caba for Town Clerk and Treasurer Committee" appealed to the Democratic voters to vote Oct. 15 in the caucus for Edward Caba. The committee also urges anyone wishing to help to contact Mr. Caba's home, personally, or by phone.

TODAY'S AGRI-FACT

Colds and headaches, often the cause of missed classes and half-hearted lectures, can be greatly reduced by college students who eat two or three apples a day. Scientific research has proven that apple-eating students have less than half as many colds and aches as non-apple eaters.

October 24, 1667—King Charles II of England tasted his first cranberries and took an immediate fancy to them. They were presented by English explorers returning from Cape Cod, Massachusetts.

Leukemia Drive October 15-16

Jeremiah Finn, Chief Probation officer of Hampden County announced today the appointment of George Bickford of Elbert Rd., to serve as general chairman of the annual Danny Thomas Leukemia Drive in Agawam. The drive will be held the week end of Oct. 15-16 and will be a Teen Age March, door to door, for funds for St. Jude's hospital in Memphis, Tenn.

Mr. Bickford announced today that Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Frederick Nardi, Raymond Charest and Edward Connelly will serve as honorary chairman of the appeal.

Each year Danny Thomas calls for the assistance of American teen-agers in the fight against leukemia, neuroblastoma and other forms of childhood cancer. Young people have responded enthusiastically in past years. Last year, over $1,500,000 was raised to support St. Jude's Children Hospital.

St. Jude's hospital opened four years ago to children regardless of race, color or creed; they come from every state of the Union. They can come because of teenagers in each community who ring door bells, not for themselves, but for children who cannot help themselves. Teen agers of Agawam wishing to help in this drive should contact the chairman, Mr. Bickford; or any of the following captains: David Barden, Doane Ave.; John Anderson, Central Sq.; Richard Forni, Giffin Pl.; Frank O'Leary, Forrest Rd., or Mrs. Mike Delucchi of Spencer St.; Edward Malachowski, Elbert Rd.; Robert Nooney, Clifton Dr., and Mrs. Claire Drohan of Liberty St., Feeding Hills. Teen agers are asked to contact the captain nearest to their home.

Adult help will be most welcome; Teen age organizations wishing to help are asked to contact Mr. Bickford; organizations will be listed in the next release.

KICKOFF TIME AT THIRD NAT'L

It's kickoff time again at Third National Bank of Hampden County.

Harry G. Webster, the bank's vice president in charge of the marketing department, said today last year's bank-sponsored film "How to Watch Pro Football" was so popular that a second—"even more entertaining and exciting"—has been obtained for free distribution to organizations and other groups this year.

Mr. Webster said the new 30-minute color film, "The Key Plays of Pro Football," has been produced for the bank by NFL Films, whose camera crews shot 450,000 feet of film at more than 200 professional football games. Lindsey Nelson is the narrator.

"Football is a game of fundamentals," Mr. Webster said. "The team that blocks best, tackles hardest and executes the key plays most effectively will win."

"Our new film analyzes these key plays, which are most commonly referred to as the sweep, the trap, the bomb, the screen, the rush, the blitz, the punt and the kickoff. The film is especially good because it shows these plays being run successfully and unsuccessfully. The film represents 30 minutes of hard-driving professional football."

Last year 107 organizations representing more than 7,500 people saw Third National's "How to Watch Pro Football."

Mr. Webster said that in contrast to last year, the bank will not provide projector and projectionist, but will make the film itself available to all interested organizations. Details may be obtained by telephoning Third National's marketing department.

Next Thursday evening, tradition will take over students at Agawam High School. The annual Sadie Hawkins Dance tradition is that the girl asks the boy to be her date for the evening. Chris Parzyck and Judi Ezekiel, general chairmen of the dance, which is sponsored by the Agawam High School Personality Club, whose advisor is Mrs. Mico, have scheduled a skit performed by boys and girls and the disc jockey for the night will be Mark Rossi.

Ticket chairman Judi Rebecchi and Lynda Syniec with the help of their committee have sold the tickets this past week and tomorrow will be the last day to purchase them. Fran Siano and Sandy Lach, chairmen of the decorations have been busy preparing the decorations and souvenirs for the attending students. Publicity has been handled by Pat McKenna and the other members of the Publicity Committee. This committee has also given the AHS teachers invitations to the Sadie. Refreshments chairman Dianne Cushing and table decorations chairman Debbie Lutkins have been working with their committees to get ready for Thursday. A great deal of time and work has been put into this dance to make it a success as it has been in past years.

Football Games—Successes

Last week, Chicopee Comp fought, but lost to Agawam, 30-8, in a Monday afternoon game. But that game was not as invigorating as the Agawam-Tech game which was played last Saturday at our field. Tech was chosen by sports writers to beat Agawam in the game which ended in a score 14-8 with Agawam coming out on top. This game marked the 21st game in the Brownies' winning streak. This Saturday, the AHS team will defend this record in a game against Westfield which will be played at home.

VOLPE ON EMPLOYMENT

Governor John A. Volpe, campaigning vigorously for re-election, declared today that 129,000 new jobs have been created in Massachusetts during his administration.

The Governor asserted that this has meant greater prosperity for the entire Commonwealth and all its citizens.

"When new jobs are created or old jobs are wiped out, it has a chain reaction which affects a great many persons other than those directly involved," the Governor observed.

"It is extremely gratifying to be able to report that 129,000 jobs, offering employment opportunities and in many instances a better means of earning a livelihood for our citizens, have been created during my administration," Governor Volpe stated.

Governor Volpe pointed out that 43,000 new manufacturing jobs have been established throughout the State during his present term reversing a serious trend which saw a decline of 38,000 such jobs during the previous Democratic administration.

"One of my chief objectives as Governor has been to achieve a better economic climate which would encourage the expansion of industry in our Commonwealth and in so doing provide new jobs and employment opportunities for our citizens," the Governor declared.

"I am happy to report that we have made notable progress toward reaching that goal.

"If I am reelected Governor, I intend to continue those efforts and to do everything within my power to realize an even greater improvement of the economic climate in our State and a higher degree of prosperity for our people," Governor Volpe added.

"We have made great strides during my administration, but there is more which can and should be done. I hope to be able to do it," he said.

McGUIRE FOR LT. GOV. ON WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION

Joseph E. McGuire, Democratic candidate for Lt. Governor, campaigning in communities, called for an improved Workman's Compensation program that would include coverage for all employees in Massachusetts.

"This is basic to the state's efforts to protect working people and their families when they are affected by some industrial accident or injury," he said.

A former Commissioner on the State's Industrial Accident Board, McGuire listed a seven-point program that would benefit all workers in the State.

This includes, besides universal coverage, a permanent partial disability, elimination of a seven-day waiting period to three days, providing a compensation rate that protects both the high and low wage earners, raising compensation payments consistent with the rising costs of living, requiring more prompt payments from insurers, and creating an active second injury fund.

"A second injury fund, if established," he said, "would encourage employment of the handicapped by protecting employers from an assessment of heavy compensation costs if a handicapped worker suffers a subsequent injury."

"This would encourage industry to give the injured employee a second chance," McGuire asserted. McGuire today campaigns in Norfolk County and in the evening tours the Peabody area in Essex County.

ATTY. GENERAL BROOKE ON ECONOMY

Attorney General Edward W. Brooke today proposed a four-point program for strengthening the economy of the Commonwealth through an improvement of the highway system serving the vital Central Corridor of Massachusetts.

The U. S. Senate candidate called for "a coordinated, comprehensive attack which centers on a creative partnership between the state of Massachusetts and the Federal Government."

Brooke declared that this joint effort would be accompanied by "the establishment of a Permanent Road Study Commission to review industry and population trends relative to needs for future transportation" and to carry out "careful highway planning in the Central corridor and other areas of Massachusetts."

A recent study of the Central Corridor of Massachusetts by a group of engineering consultants indicated that highway construction in this area would cost $310 million over a 20-year period.

Brooke pointed out that the Central Corridor, encompassing 1600 square miles or one sixth of Massachusetts, includes "546,000 residents as well as the economically important areas of Worcester, Leominster, and Fitchburg." The Corridor is tied to other parts of the state by Routes 2, 9, and 20 and by the Massachusetts Turnpike.

LT. GOV. RICHARDSON ON CAMPAIGN SPENDING

Lieutenant Governor Elliot L. Richardson, campaigning energetically for election as the next attorney general, yesterday declared that his opponent has established himself "as one of the big campaign spenders."

Richardson accused his opponent of insincerity and of attempting to mislead the voters by his statements on limiting campaign expenditures.

"It is ironic and paradoxical that my opponent should be talking now about big campaign spending and curbing campaign expenditures," Richardson asserted.

This certainly is a new approach for him, and on the basis of his lavish campaign spending in the past, one must wonder as to his sincerity," Lieutenant Governor Richardson continued.

"Records on file at the State House, which are open to public inspection, show that my opponent spent nearly $900,000 on his campaign in 1964," Richardson said.

"That was over half a million dollars more than I expended on my campaign that same year.

"Despite the tremendous exposure he received from an expenditure of over three-quarters of a million dollars, he was defeated for election.

"I spent a total of $309,359 in the same campaign in which my present opponent spent $879,000," Richardson pointed out.

"It seems to me that the records speak for themselves and that any fair-minded person can form his own judgment from them," Richardson maintained.

"As a matter of fact, in my race for lieutenant governor two years ago, I was well within the guidelines set out in Senator Kennedy's proposal. Frank Bellotti, on the other hand, spent almost $400,000 more than the Senator has recommended for a gubernatorial candidate," Richardson stated.

Since its inception in 1946, UNICEF has shipped over 125,000 midwives' kits, more than 3 billion vitamin capsules, and more than 1 billion pounds of dried milk.
